The Steward Living in Covenant (2001)

Ronald E. Vallet

"The reader will discover in the chapters of this book a treatment of biblical stories that provides rich material for preaching and teaching in the life of the church. The result...should be a new sense of being part of a great cloud of witnesses; stewards living in covenant with God and neighbor." - Bruce C. Birch, Dean and Professor of Old Testament, Wesley Theological Seminary (2001)

Available from REV/ROSE Ministries

Responsible Purchasing for Faith Communities (2002)

Center for a New American Dream

Individuals and small groups have the power to make positive changes that benefit our neighbors, ourselves and our planet. Communities of faith have an important leadership role to play on issues of environmental and social justice.

This Responsible Purchasing program guide, which lists eight concrete actions as well as many tips and resources, is a tool to help communities of faith make wise choices and contribute to a healthier environment and a more equitable world. Taking even a few of these actions can make a difference in the lives of others. And, by joining with thousands of people of faith taking steps together, you'll see that you are not alone. - Betsy Taylor, Executive Director, Center for a New American Dream

Available at 877-68-DREAM $5.00 (34 pp.)

Basic Trek: Venture into a World of Enough

Dave Schrock-Shenk

What is enough? Basic Trek invites us to explore that question. In thought. And in experience. A different theme is featured for each of the four weeks of this twenty-eight day journey - awaken to the journey - step out - lighten the pack - stay the course.

Each day starts with a story and a Scripture passage followed by reflection questions to consider and actions to try. Also check out the key concepts and references in the appendix. All these invite us to live, reflect, and walk into a world of enough for all. - from preface

How Much is Enough? Harness the Power of Your Money Story - And Change Your Life

Pamela York Klainer

Whether we are middle managers or the CEOs of our own start-ups, senior executives with stock options or the keepers of modest 401(K) accounts, our relationship to money and work defines our daily lives.

Yet, most of us don't really have an honest handle on what we want from work, what we expect from money, or how the time we devote to making money relates to the rest of our lives. In How Much is Enough?, the consultant dubbed the "money shrink" by Money magazine gives us tools for improving what is often our most troubled relationship: money.

"We may know that money can't buy us love, or happiness, yet many of us still can't give up the relentless - and sometimes destructive - chase. In How Much is Enough?, Pam Klainer provides us with the tools for unraveling our often complicated relationships with money so that we can move ahead, unfettered, to achieve our most important dreams."

-Carrie Schwab Pomerantz, Vice-President, Consumer Education, Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.

Creating a Climate for Giving

Donald W. Joiner

Giving through the church is more than about money. It is about lives being changed. It is about never feeling lonely or unloved. It is about helping others. It is about children and youth. It is about our personal salvation. It is about what God has done for us in Jesus Christ.

"Church leaders say that the old ways of funding the work of the church no longer work. Perhaps the answer is to change from the task of raising funds to the challenge of funding ministry. Donald Joiner brings a vision for a fresh, comprehensive strategy for helping churches recognize stewardship as an exciting spiritual journey in response to God's call." - publisher

Holy Smoke! - What Ever Happened to Tithing

J. Cliff Christopher and Herb Mather

The church's spiritual health and effectiveness in ministry in the next century hinge on a recovery of basic spiritual disciplines, including the discipline of tithing. / Just as the sacrifices of ancient Israel caused "holy smoke" to rise to God as a pleasing odor, so the practice of tithing can be a sacrificial offering for Christians today. When practiced faithfully over time, tithing can be an important benchmark in the Christian's journey toward the stewardship of all of life. - publisher

"One of the most biblical and practical workbooks on the need of the giver to give I've read in a long time. The authors provide a benchmark for the Christians to use in their spiritual journey." - William M. Easum

Available from Discipleship Resources (800-685-4370) or Cokesbury (800-972-0433)

That's What My Mother Taught Me

Herb Mather

Interviews with over a hundred people identified as generous givers resulted in a wealth of giving stories. The experiences of these people from a variety of backgrounds, congregations, ethnic groups, ages and locations are woven together to describe ways giving patterns develop in real congregations among real people. - publisher

Herb Mather invites us to enter into and explore a house of ideas and feelings with many hallways and doorways of self-discovery. Herb has provided an invaluable service for all of us as we find that our own childhood and adult experiences connect us to the greater truths of the faith. - John and Sylvia Ronsavalle

Let the Rivers Run (1981)

by Eugene F. Roop
STEWARDSHIP - the meaning of this work has varied greatly in different historical contexts, yet the Bible has remained a central resource for the church's stewardship work.
